

the Transubstantiation, consequently it does not take place either. And I can tell you that GOD has even taken the power of blessing away from many clergy! You cannot expect to be able to still bless if you have secret doings with a woman, sometimes even with several women or abuse children. No! The human heart is like a test tube: the more it is filled with sin, the less grace will be admitted there. Paedophilia is a horrific sin, all the more so with a priest! Also when a priest breaks his vowed celibacy, he sins gravely. – I say, even a married man can become a priest, but a priest cannot marry, otherwise he would say to GOD: „Your love is too little for me, I still need the human love of a woman!“ Certainly, we are all human beings. We are weak, so are the clergy. But they ought to be models, they are heads. Many are upset by the word “heads,” but I look at it in a different way: not from the top down, but placed at the head, put up front as models. How important is it really for a priest, bishop or Pope to be a good example – a second CHRIST! Amen!

„Let the Little Ones Come to Me!“ The Priest’s Power of Blessing

My beloved! I see it also on YouTube, how know-it-alls keep taking part. They have never ever been with GOD, be it by being caught away, be it in any other way. They are so full of themselves in their knowledge; I do not know what to say when reading such. These know-it-alls are today’s teachers of the law and Pharisees; they are not the slightest bit better than the then Pharisees! The SAVIOUR said: „Anyone who does not receive the Kingdom of GOD like a child will not enter it!“ and in another place: „I thank You, FATHER, that You have revealed these things to the little ones, but have hidden them from the exceedingly clever,“ – He did not exactly put it like that – „from the wise!“

The whole teaching of CHRIST, also what the Apostles said later, has been kept so simple that even a child understands. Unfortunately, in the Church then came the Professors, the clever lot, the scholars, theologians, philosophers, etc., with their reason, as if this had also been fertilised in Heaven. No, reason is fertilised by the heart. In church they used to say that you cannot give the Bible to the crowds, the people would not understand. Yet JESUS said: „Let the little ones come to Me, and do not hinder them, for the Kingdom of Heaven is for such as these!“ When the SAVIOUR says that His teaching is to be received like a child, it does not mean being childish, but being a child at heart. Where is a human being who can tell me that he is not a child before GOD any more? When someone asserts this, every further discussion is superfluous. I will tell you once more: when a child does not understand what the preacher says, they are not GOD’s words!

Such once happened in Zurich at one of my lectures: after my talk a doctor stood up, a theologian and philosopher, argued against me and what I had said, and rather long and complicated for that matter. Then I sat down, did not even listen any more. Why should I? I only said in my lecture what GOD taught me. So I was not interested in the answer of a know-it-all. If a child had said something to me, I would have listened. When he had finished talking, I had to stand up. They were all looking at me, were expecting my answer, and I did not have a clue what he had actually spoken. I was thinking: „LORD, what am I to say? Help me!“ And I started to talk. It simply came gushing out of me without my knowing at all what I was saying. In any case, there suddenly was a loud thunder of applause. I had not even finished yet. This so-called scholar packed up his briefcase and off he went. I wanted to jump after him, to tell him ..., but he was gone already. – In another place something happened in a similar way. A Professor did not understand my lecture. So I called an about ten-year-old child to me who was also present: „Did you understand what I said? Can you repeat it?“ And the child could repeat it fantastically, although not exactly syllable by syllable. Then I said: „Professor, the child understands. Why not you as a Professor?“

Anthony of Padua and Francis of Assisi

Even the staunchest opponent cannot say anything against both these Saints. Francis of Assisi preached everywhere and he must have preached well, he was incredibly successful. But he was so bold as to even preach to the birds. „Well, is he nuts?“ is what the world would say. The birds were quiet while he was preaching to them. Not that the birds would have understood, but GOD allowed the people, who did not want to listen to him, to see this and be ashamed.

Or let us take, for example, a highly educated scholar who had studied in Paris and in many other places, St Anthony of Padua. When he began to preach in a town near the sea, the people closed their windows, they did not want to hear anything from him. Then he headed for the seaside and preached to the little fishes. These held their heads out of the water and listened to him. Certainly, the fish did not become Catholic, but the dear LORD allowed this miracle to happen so that the people who were watching were ashamed and, in the end, called for him to come back. – A second episode of St Anthony of Padua: a farmer told him point-blank in front of other people that faith was humbug: „I do not understand that you can be so silly to believe such things.“ Also on YouTube and everywhere you hear that the Communion, the Eucharist is humbug. St Anthony answered the farmer: „All right, let us make a bet with each other. You will not feed your donkey for three days. Then you will bring it and place the best oats ready. I will come with the Holy Eucharist, with the Body of CHRIST. And I tell you, the donkey will first go down on its knees before the Most Blessed Sacrament and only then will it start eating!“ The farmer, of course, laughed out loud: „I would love that ever so much!“ And so it came to pass. At the agreed day the farmer came with the donkey and Anthony with the Sacrament of the Altar. The hungry donkey saw the forage, rushed towards it, but then it saw the Eucharist, forgot about the fodder and kneeled down before the Most Blessed Sacrament. The farmer converted and, as a result, many people were strengthened again in their faith.

We simply ought to accept the words of JESUS with a believing heart – I do not say with a believing mind, but with a believing heart –, because GOD’s word is life. He speaks so plainly, so clearly. But then, as I mentioned before, came the Church and said: „Holy Scripture is not for the common people, they do not understand; you have to grasp it with your head!“ Words of JESUS have always shown that reason is not what it comes down to – GOD has sufficient of it, nobody can measure up to GOD! –, but it comes down to the heart. With the heart you see well, much better than with the eyes.

Many Clergy Lack the Power of Blessing

The Precious Blood of JESUS is flowing every time in a valid Holy Sacrifice of the Mass if the Priest believes in what he does! “Mystery of faith” is what he says. A vast number of clergy no longer believe in
